

COVID-19 Update

Our people. Our community

The current COVID-19 situation is unlike anything we have experienced before and with that in mind, it's important we take the necessary precautions to care for ourselves, each other and our community.

The health and wellbeing of our people, partners and communities remain our highest priority; and this has never been more important than right now. We are taking a measured approach to ensure we respect and protect the communities we operate in.

We're connecting with our suppliers and customers and adapting new ways of working to ensure we reduce risk, to any of the dedicated teams or customers we connect with.

We are closely monitoring the guidance from the Australia Department of Health and advice of the Chief Medical Officer. While the environment we are working under is continually changing, we are committed to acting quickly (if required) as new developments arise.

It's fair to say this is a new territory for all of us; we need to remember we are in this together and will only get through it if we keep our strong community spirit and mindset intact.

Stay safe, be cautious and make balanced choices for you and those around you.
